ABOUT

Born and raised in New Zealand, the highlight of Heather's childhood was the family sheep and cattle farm just north of Auckland. With reading and writing a big part of family life, she dreamed of becoming a writer, however work, travel and raising a family consumed many years after she settled in Queensland with her Australian husband. Her love and knowledge of farming life was strengthened with thirty plus years of living on the land in Queensland's Darling Downs. Now retired and living near Toowoomba, QLD, with her husband, dogs and chooks, Heather is finally able to fulfil her dream of writing. When not busy writing, Heather is in their large garden, minding her grandchildren, or bush walking and exploring the vast beauty of Australia and New Zealand.

"Readers of Rachael Johns, Fleur McDonald, and Tricia Stringer, will love the enticingly smooth and gently flowing storytelling of Heather Reyburn. The intuitive way in which she writes rural settings shows her connection to the land and her subtlety in weaving in romantic aspects and happily-ever-afters is second-to-none." - AusRom Today

"An enjoyment of writing—journals, letters and stories—led to my desire to write a novel. Weaving into my storytelling a lifetime of living on the land and the strong family values I've grown up with, as well as meeting like-minded people at writer's retreats was vital in inspiring and enabling me to write with the aim of being published."

THE CEDAR TREE (TULLAGULLA SERIES, BOOK 1)

Would you accompany your husband to a run down, sun scorched sheep and cattle station in outback Queensland to save your marriage?

Grace Campbell agrees to do just that, buoyed by the belief that isolation and rural peace will repair her marriage and provide a good life for her growing family.

But, as the ramshackle old homestead, shaded by an ancient Cedar Tree, unravels its secrets, Grace is swept up in the harsh beauty of the outback and its colourful characters. As if adjusting to a new and isolated lifestyle isn't enough, the handsome new owner of Tullagulla shows up and Grace is thrown into turmoil.

Torn between the gentle stranger and her hot-headed husband, Grace is forced to confront her feelings and question her loyalties, while her love for Tullagulla further challenges her ability to make a life changing decision.

When tragedy strikes, will a century old ghost help her or destroy her?

THE ENGLISH OAK (TULLAGULLA SERIES, BOOK 2)

She had nothing left to lose. At least that's what she thought.

Bronte Miller and her young daughter Madeline leave England and the only home they had ever known when they venture to Australia in search of a new life. A job as Governess on Tullagulla Station in the Queensland outback seems like a good place to start, however the heat, flies and long days of work bring unexpected challenges.

As Bronte and Madeline settle into life on Tullagulla, the property is threatened by an unexpected rural crime wave and its residents band together to assist the stock squad.

Then, just as a new relationship develops between Bronte and the local vet, a shocking secret is revealed and her life is once again turned upside down.

Will she find the happiness she so desperately wants? Or will the hardships all be for nothing?
